What is Phase III of the Tranquille Road Sanitary Main and Road Enhancement Project?

This is the third and final phase of a project to replace the sanitary sewer trunk main that runs between Aviation Way and 12th Street. This main services approximately 39,000 people and is one of the city's most critical sewer mains. The infrastructure is nearing the end of its life and requires replacement and increased capacity to support growth.

In addition to the underground infrastructure, this project also includes several surface-level improvements, including a 1.5 m wide concrete sidewalk the north side of Tranquille Road and a 3.0 m wide multi-use pathway on the south side that will connect Fulton Field Park to the existing multi-use path that currently ends near Southhill Street. This connection will complete an integral east-west bike corridor identified in the City's Transportation Master Plan. The project also includes drainage catch basins, storm drainage infiltration access points, trees, bus pullouts, water system upgrades, lighting, and other related improvements.
